

Multipliers hike assessments

"Multipliers creep" will continue in the Quad-City area this year, except in Chester Township.

Proposed township assessment multipliers set by Madison County became final last week, including 1.079 for Granite City Township, 1.046 for Nameoki Township, 1.0274 for Venice Township (Venice-Madison area) and 1.0 for Chester.

The proposal will be to increase each real estate owner's taxable value by the amount indicated. A Granite City home currently assessed at $10,000 will have a $16,797 assessment through application of the multiplier.

In the case of real estate—property owned by individuals, couples and corporations—against which local governmental agencies' tax levies are applied to determine rates and the bills.

The new township multipliers are intended to avoid a state-set county multiplier in Madison County.

This county always has retained a 1. multiplier, meaning no multiplier, by adjusting assessments to the extent suggested by the state government, based on samplings of real estate sale prices.

The revised assessments for the 1982 tax year will serve as the basis for tax billing and collection this summer.

In line with Section 589, Paragraph 5 of the Illinois Revised Statutes Chapter 120, the County Board of Review determined it was necessary once again to equalize realty assessments among the townships.

Town multipliers ranging from 1 up to Leet Township's 1.2276 were set after the Illinois Department of Revenue advised Madison County of a potential 1.0504 countywide multiplier. To eliminate any countywide change, the county raised values in 21 of the 24 townships.

After a hearing last week, the Board of Review ratified all of its township proposals except Wood River. Instead of a 1.040 figure there, the new Wood River multiplier will be 1.0445.

Robert Harris is chairman of the Board of Review and the other members are Mrs. Shirley Voegeli and Fred Finch.

Seek early steel settlement

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

WILL THE CONTRACTORS succeed? Steelworkers and steelmakers are bargaining once again in Pittsburgh this time with March 1 as their target date.

Granite City Steel and its salaried and hourly staffs will be directly affected by the outcome of the talks. The current contract extends through July, but major buyers say they cannot wait until then and instead may begin contracts now or over spring.

General Motors has called off making commitments with Japanese steelmakers during March, adding that it does not plan any pre-August stockpiling of steel with which to make autos and trucks.

Previous efforts to revise the existing steel pact have ended in failure. Three years failed in late July and late November 1982 when local union presidents voted negatively. The number casting ballots has since been trimmed sharply.

Concessions are being sought in pay and benefits. In return, the United Steelworkers want some degree of job security.

USW President Lloyd McBride has not been active in the current sessions because he recently had a heart pacemaker implanted. Joseph Odrock, a vice-president, has represented him.

In contrast to past instances in which they felt they did not receive adequate and timely progress reports, local leaders are remaining in Pittsburgh for extended negotiations.

Union local presidents are holding daily committee meetings and conducting local-level bargaining while top negotiators strive to work out acceptable terms of an overall pact. The seven companies involved include National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel.

Granite Cityans say that approval of either of last year's proposals would have been followed by further shrinking of steel employment. About 150,000 steelworkers are jobless across the nation now.

Staffing at Granite City Steel varies from week to week, depending on steel sales and production schedules. Volume has been down and prices have been weak, causing National Steel to lose $462 million in 1982.

National is attempting to sell its West Virginia plant to the employees there, retaining in its Steel Group the local division and those in the Detroit and Chicago areas.

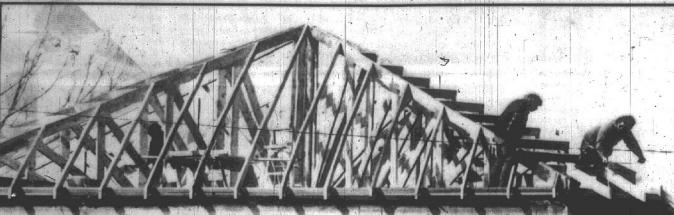

Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. is not participating in the industry-wide talks this month, reducing the number of firms from eight to seven.

Industry negotiators have sought 18 percent pay cuts, with the amount gradually restored to workers over a period of several years. Work rule proposals would reduce mill manpower.

UNUSUAL TEMPERATURES prompt workers to take advantage of spring-like weather to put a new roof on a local church rectory, one of the projects marking a comeback of outside construction, home improvement and home buying. Predictions of county-wide businessmen, based on increased sales in real estate and automobiles, is that the economy is looking up and will continue to rise at a slow, but encouraging, rate.

Seek broad impact in drug abuse fight

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Peer pressure: It has nothing to do with bridges, but a job to do with thousands of students in the Quad-City area. To "keep up with the Joneses" in their own or a neighboring classroom, some students experiment and become addicted.

Operation Snowball, like many other programs, is in its second year. This approach to reversing pro-drug peer pressure was the topic of last week's February prayer breakfast, held at Charlie's Restaurant.

"Snowball" is a peer leadership and education program modeled after the Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse. Proclaiming that "huge interests than drugs," it seeks to provide positive motivation for high school boys and become addicted.

Not enough Quad-City area youngsters have had a chance to participate in Operation Snowball, the breakfast group concluded. The issue will be faced and the group will seek ways to broaden the impact of the widely-acclaimed anti-drug campaign.

"Operation Snowflake" is a related program devoted to junior high school pupils. It was started in the belief that the problem is developing rapidly in the

Weber wins case; teacher still facing other trials

By ED GURNEY

Defense attorney John Gitchoff announced plans to appeal the conviction of Van Hook, 35, of Collinsville, who faces charges against the former Collinsville Unit 10 school teacher.

Van Hook, 35, of Collinsville, was found guilty Thursday of two counts of indecent liberties with a child, three counts of perjury and one count of official misconduct. He was acquitted on one count of taking indecent liberties with a child and one count of perjury.

"I think it's a hard case for him [Weber]," Gitchoff said. "I think the judge has given us a new trial."

Concerning the other charges pending, Weber said, "(I believe) Van Hook molested a number of girls. Unless he wants to plead guilty to the other charges, I think it's incumbent on me to represent him."

The charges pending include allegations involving two other girls in Madison County.

The 11-man, one-woman jury deliberated for approximately eight hours before returning its verdict about midnight Thursday night.

Associate Judge Edward Ferguson, who presided at the seven-day trial, has not set a sentencing date.

Ferguson ruled that Van Hook may remain in jail pending sentence.

Weber said Van Hook can receive a maximum 20-year prison sentence.

The Unit 10 Board of Education is scheduled to discuss Van Hook's status as an employee when it meets tonight. Van Hook has been working in non-teaching jobs since he was indicted last March.

Gitchoff was planning to meet with Van Hook today to discuss the case. He said he will file a motion this week asking Ferguson to issue a directed verdict.

Upturn seen in housing market

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Real estate loans have more than doubled during the three-month period of December, 1982, and January and February of 1983, as compared to sales a year ago for the same months, and area lending institutions report an even greater jump in loans and savings accounts, giving credence to the economy making a comeback, although unemployment still hovers around 20 percent.

A drop in interest rates nationwide seems to be bringing about a recovery in businesses where purchases necessitated securing a loan.

A dramatic example is the firm that closed out three times more loans in January of this year than during the first two months in 1982 and has many more loan applications in process.

Paul Sodko of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association said loan applications and approvals are up substantially, but closings have not greatly surpassed the level of last year.

"I think the interest rate now in effect will remain stable through this year and 1984, therefore giving prospective homebuyers a chance to purchase their first home or, for others, to buy a different parcel of real estate," Sodko added.

Sodko explained, "At the present time, loans are being granted at a 12.2 percent interest rate with a three-year balloon clause, at which time the loan must be renegotiated.

At the close of the fiscal year, Nov. 30, 1982, loans outstanding at Sodko had increased to $82,642,357, up from $58,746,336; savings deposits had increased to $82,416,611, up from $51,306,117; while loans on the books stood at nearly $74 million; up more than 27½ million dollars over the previous year.

Apparently the most activity in home loans is with FHA and VA, where, in November, the interest rate dropped to 12½ percent, with a lesser percent when the seller assumes a point system.

A 30-year loan may be obtained for 11½ percent if the seller will absorb an approximate six points (depending on the economy) and a 15-year loan is possible for 10 percent interest.

Another source of loans is the bank branch for Westemacra Mortgage Co., said these loans are available to any qualified buyer and are fixed-rate and fixed-term mortgages which are entirely assumable. Monies released, with a maximum rate of 12½ percent, is available to any prospective buyer and not restricted to first-time buyers.

Homeowners who applied for and were granted mortgages around 17½ percent last year may now refinance their loans to reduce the monthly payments by $100 or $150, and many are involved in this changeover at the present time.

In the Alton Wood River area, one savings and loan reported a 1,000 percent increase in mortgage loans and car dealerships also reported an increase in shoppers.

Germany Federal Savings and Loan, which holds many Quad-City area mortgages, issued 125 loans in January and 132 in February, both in the 12½ percent range of last month of 1982, according to David Kilduff, vice-president of the institution.

Real Estate sales in the Alton-Wood River area also have increased with the Board of Realtors there reporting a total volume of sales closed for January, 1983, was $1,849,200, compared to a January, 1982, figure of $1,150,000.

Although sales in real estate continue to rise, there is no known new home building in the Quad-City area, with the exception of individual houses and that is at a minimum, real estate officials agree.

FRIDAY MORNING FIRE. Granite City firefighter Robert "Butch" Mink holds a large hose in a vent hole cut into the roof of the home of David Bowman, 1215 Edwardsville Road, Friday morning. Cause of the fire is believed to be a defective flue which vents a wood-burning stove.

Eleven firefighters used three pumpers and other equipment to fight the fire for more than 3 hours. Damage estimates have been set at $10,000 to the structure and $10,000 to the contents.

Madison prepares to 'honorably dismiss' about 5 to 8 teachers

By NANCY WEAVER
Press-Record

The Madison School Board Thursday passed a resolution concerning staff reduction and non-renewal of contracts, so that those cut from the staff are given honorable dismissals.

Superintendent John Palchek said that such resolutions are routine procedure. While five to eight staff members could be dismissed at the end of the school year, most of them are called back, he said.

Usually, many of the first and second year staff members are honorably dismissed. The state requires that such dismissals be made at least 30 days prior to the end of the present school term, which is before next year's staffing requirements are known.

Between the dismissals and the end of the school year, the district has time to evaluate "enrollment and finances," and can then decide how many staff members are needed, Palchek said.

Through attrition and reductions, the district generally can "call back" most of those dismissed, he added and said the procedure has been in effect for about three years.

Board members were given a report from Assistant Superintendent Wade James concerning a meeting of the Vocational Advisory Committee, which was informed that meeting that there has not been any real progress in talking to union representatives or representatives of National Steel regarding construction assistance for the remodeling of the skill center at the junior high building or an addition to the high school.

Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, brought the report from the high school to the board's attention.

In the junior and senior classes, 18 percent of the students made the honor roll. Fifteen percent of the sophomore class was assigned to the honor roll. She expressed hope that the freshman class will improve after the usual adjustment period.

Six high school students made straight "A's" she said. High School Principal Daniel Kostenski wrote each of the high honor students a personal letter commanding them.

In other action, the board approved early childhood screening and kindergarten registration at Blais School on Tuesday, April 25, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., and at Harris School on Wednesday, April 27, from 1 to 7 p.m., and Thursday, April 28, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided by Dr. Tom and Sesame Minne at 11:15 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The Abrakadabra magicians will perform at 12:15 and 1:30 p.m. A carnival calliope will provide music throughout the day, as will Sgt. Pepperoni's One-Man Band.

A strong man contest will begin at 11 a.m. and a carnival costume contest at 1 p.m. and a luggage contest at 1:15 p.m.

A free tuition drawing is scheduled at 2 p.m.

Throughout the day, popcorn, cotton candy, and snow cones will be available in the lounger.

Although the carnival will begin at 11 a.m., the dance featuring Adrenalin, a new wave and rock band from Michigan, is scheduled from 6 to 11:30 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom. Tickets for the show, $10, will be $8 for SIEUE students and $5 for non-students.

Nesco record 'snowballing'

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"Snowballing" has just snowballed on us since our newspaper 'ran out' with it," said Dennis Albright, general manager of the Reliable Nesco steel barrel plant in downtown Granite City.

What has "snowballed," he says is the pride, public interest and media interest in last Tuesday's achievement when the plant set a world record for manufacturing 5,000 barrels in one 7½-hour working day.

Albright has become an "overnight celebrity," appearing on ABC's Good Morning America, and making appearances on two St. Louis television stations Wednesday, not to mention his front page photograph in the Press-Record. St. Louis newspapers have interviewed him and sent TV crews to film a half-hour program on the small company did it.

"I went to Petri's Cafe for lunch and the waitress and two men in business suits never saw me come over, shook my hand, said they had seen me and thought what we did was terrific. The same thing happened when I went to cash my check. It has just been great," Albright stated.

He received a letter Friday from Alan Richardson, executive director of the Tri-Cities Art Museum. It read: "Congratulations on your one day production record of 5,000 barrels. Your company is a prime example of what cooperative efforts can accomplish."

Albright released a secret not mentioned before. Plant employees had been told that the company would go to Tuesday as soon as they surpassed the old world record of 4,500 barrels. When they did it before 3 p.m., management kept its word and told the employees, "Come on in." They told us if we stopped the line then, they would break our legs," Albright joked. They worked until the normal cutoff time of 3:25 p.m., producing another 513 barrels before quitting.

Friday, a new sign went up over the plant, announcing Reliable Nesco Steel Barrel.

The sign is not complete yet. A large portion of it, including another one will be installed soon which says, "Through these gates walk the children of God." He adds, "That's what they are."

Another secret not announced previously was a bet between Albright and John A. Arghyris, executive vice-president of steel operations for Plant Industries Inc., the parent company of Reliable Nesco.

The two men made a detailed bet two weeks ago, when Albright was promoted to general manager. If the plant did not produce 4,500 barrels in one day before March 31, Albright would get very dark year, he noted. Nesco declared Chapter 11 bankruptcy reorganization earlier. There were ongoing rumors that the plant might close.

"We had a very traumatic year. That's why we are enjoying it so much. A year ago, some people thought we might fold," said Norman Nilsson, sales manager.

"This is more than just a great day because of the things that have gone through," he added.

Albright said setting the record, and the public recognition it achieved, stimulated the workers and staff. "They are getting up with new ideas, new plans. New ways to stimulate business are coming out. Their pride has grown."

The company plans to throw a party for the customers who helped us during difficult times. We will run the celebration special to help the customers who have been helping us," he said.

On a final note, Albright decided, the day after the 5,013-barrel record was set, "the production people came to me and said we can expect to do 10,000 barrels by the men, 6,000 barrels in one 7½-hour day." He'll leave it to them to set the date when we'll try that," he concluded.

VENICE, Ill.—An Illinois police dispatch last week, Venice police found an Illinois Power employee who had been injured on the Venice viaduct.

Mueller apparently was traveling west on Broadway when his 1989 auto crossed the roadway and plowed under the Fox Bros. Industrial truck trailer, which was parked on the opposite side, police said.

News notes

Parents are opposing potential school closings in Roxana and Columbia as well as in Granite City.

The Madison County Juvenile Detention home foreclosed on behalf of the D.O.T. between 1982-November 1983 year. Associate Judge Nicholas Byron, who handles hundreds of juvenile cases annually, said Thursday that the court would save nothing, since it would have to pay to have teenagers detained.

Ranft testifies in favor of harbor improvements

Area public officials, including Carl Ranft, general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority, testified before the Subcommittee on Water Resources of the Committee on Works and Transportation, U.S. House of Representatives.

Ranft took letters of support from the Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA) and John Cramm, director of the Illinois Department of Transportation, backing Ranft's position that the proposed St. Louis Harbor improvements in Missouri and the enlargement of the Tri-City Regional Port along the Chain of Rocks Canal in Granite City are necessary and desirable.

He was accompanied by Leon E. McKinney of McKinney Associates, Stephen M. Kennedy, director of the Port of the Authors of St. Louis, and D. Wayne Weidemann, manager of port development for the Bi-State Development Agency.

Following are portions of Ranft's statements to the subcommittee.

"It is clearly evident from the abundance of positive support that there are multiple and widespread benefits from the project. The proposed improvements will positively impact the St. Louis metropolitan area, the Midwest and the nation of federal, regional, immediate and long-term economic, social and environmental benefits for a wide array of private and public sector interests. The proposed improvements will alleviate serious existing water transportation problems and satisfy longer term intermodal transportation needs, as well as, create and contribute to expanding economic opportunities in a sound, well-planned and orderly fashion."

"In order to maximize the many positive impacts of the proposed improvements, however, it is important that implementation occur rapidly at a time when the economy will benefit most. It is to this issue - economic impact and employment generation - that I wish to focus your attention."

"The proposed new harbor will directly and indirectly create jobs - both short-term construction jobs and long-term permanent investment. The project will generate local, state and federal tax revenues and increased personal income and will leverage additional private and public investment to complement the substantial investment already in place within the Tri-City Regional Port District.

"The secondary economic impact will also be substan-

Louis Port accounts for only slightly over six percent of the 1,110 miles of navigable waterways in the state. However, this segment handles over 17 percent of the barge tonnage.

The economic impact of the Tri-City's operation, therefore, extends far beyond the immediate Tri-City area. Proceeds come from throughout the Mid-western grain belt. Tri-City Port is keeping industries, particularly the major grain processors serving more competitive in the national and in the world market.

"Then, in turn, these industries create employment and generate revenue in our area of operation.

The development of the harbor, docks, cargo transfer facilities and other physical plant improvements at the Tri-City Port will have tremendous benefit not only to the immediate area but to the entire Midwestern area served by the port.

"Economically, transportation is often the lifeblood of the economy of the fastest growing ports on the U.S. inland waterway system. The new harbor is absolutely essential if this growth is to continue and we expect to realize significant benefit in the movement of bulk products into international markets."

"Cargo handled by the port has increased from 110,000 tons in 1968 to over three million tons in 1980, with a product value of nearly $650 million. Last year (1982), the port handled approximately 30,000 rail cars, 5,000 trucks and 100 barges, or 2.8 million tons of product worth $605 million, with nearly 70 percent of the tonnage destined for export markets.

It is generally estimated that each $500 million in export value generates approximately 15,000 domestic jobs.

"Agri-business is not the only industry that depends on the river. The inland waterway system carries coal, petroleum products, steel, chemicals, building materials and many other products vital to the industries of our area. The cost of water transportation is keeping our mines operating, our electric bills down, our factories working — our work force employed and able to buy goods and services. The economic benefits of construction of the New River and the waterway locally goes far beyond the Tri-Cities area. The short and long-term economic impact will permeate throughout the Midwestern states and beyond.

"If we are to move forward to not only achieve recovery from the present recession but to build a stronger more active agricultural and industrial economy that can provide markets, goods, and most important, jobs that our people need, we must have efficient inland feeder ports, as well as deep water coastal ports with adequate capacity to meet the needs of our farmers and industries."

"The proposed new chain of rock harbors offers our area, the entire Midwest and nation an exciting and sound growth opportunity. With your help, the wide-spread benefits of continued job creation and economic development at the Tri-City Port District can be assured," Ranft concluded.

Farm meetings stress better marketing ideas

"Bargaining More Than Marketing" was the theme of meetings held recently by Illinois National Farmers. The meetings are at Greenfield and Princeton.

Ed Graf, assistant to the president, discussed a marketing survey conducted recently. It showed 55 percent of those contacted wanted help in marketing; 76 percent wanted cost of production plus profit; 56 percent believed in collective bargaining; 73 percent would join a collective bargaining organization that had professional bargainers, but less than 30 percent now belong.

Steve Demoray with the cattle department believes part of farmers' problems are due to "habits selling." People sell the same place year after year, "because dad sold there." They sell the same day of the week, the same month or even the same year.

The governors of the Postal Service voted to adopt the new regulations at their Feb. 1 meeting in San Francisco, Calif.

Valid, invalid ideas on schools

A letter in the Forum today presents many points with which we agree: It is a shame that a fine school like North will no longer be used as a high school. A lot of effort has been devoted to its operation during the last few years, and there has been outstanding success in educating young people. Several neighborhood elementary schools also will be missed by the public.

Another point in the letter about people's value system is equally valid: Americans do place some peculiar priorities on how money is distributed. For example, many Illinois school systems are closing nearly-new facilities and laying off hundreds of highly capable employees.

At the same time, all schools are being cut down to the bone of their students, a growing number of professional athletes is being paid salaries of more than $1 million a year per athlete. Any games more important than the education of future state, national and world leaders?

We also think our Feb. 3 comment has validity: The school board "is going to put on a lot of 'hole lists' for the wrong reasons." (By reducing overhead expenses), there is a good chance that the district can continue to provide a sound education. But without some kind of giant step toward curbing costs, there would have been no chance at all."

There has been a generally constructive reaction from parents and taxpayers. Many are convinced that the school cutbacks are unfortunate and drastic, but clearly unavoidable.

All of which brings us to what a few citizens are doing.

No more than picking up a barber's shears would make one a barber, driving into a lot of unfamiliar financial information does not make an individual an overnight authority on what school officials have done and should do.

An informed citizenry is vital to democratic principles and effective government; we have no "elite system" that would one day certainly become solid and serious. In doubt with good intentions, are inaccurate and misleading to an extreme degree—even though some of the speakers move agilely to a new assertion when a previous allegation by them is discredited.

No one is how frustrating it is for residents, groups and businesses to see these major cuts, it remains important to listen, learn and discuss—but not to accept at face value various statements before they are verified as true.

A plea for signing Forum letters

The Press-Record continues to receive a number of letters to the editor for the Forum each week which are not signed and the writers are not identified.

Many of these letters are well-written and thought provoking, but it would be better if the author failed to identify himself, even to the editor.

While we prefer signed Forum letters where the author allows his name to be published, we do allow some to be published without the author's name. It is important, however, that the editor know who the author is and can contact him or her if there is any question.

A file of approximately 100 Forum letters where the author has not identified himself or herself has been maintained at the Press-Record. Persons who have put hard work into the letters, but have not identified themselves, may still have those letters printed by calling the editor at the Press-Record.

We hope the Nesco spirit grows

It was exciting to be present in the Reliable Nesco steel barrel production plant in Granite City last week when the company exceeded a world production record, making 5,013 steel barrels in a 7½-hour work shift.

We only hope our front page coverage and photographs helped bring some of that excitement to our readers.

More important than the achievement itself is what it represents. Granite City workers, union and non-union, have the desire to work, the workers in the world, it takes is a desire to be the best, a willingness to work hard to achieve goals and a good relationship between management and labor.

Dennis Albright, general manager of Reliable Nesco, should be congratulated. True, he did not help form one barrel and another barrel, but for last year's achievement had been laid prior to his arrival. That past two weeks earlier. However, under his guidance, the workers wanted to prove something so badly that they exceeded even their own expectations. He is a great example of a positive thinker.

After they beat the world's record of 4,500 barrels manufactured by 3 p.m., the workers, members of United Steelworkers of America, were told they could shut down the line and go home. They declined, saying they wanted to keep working until they had beaten their normal quitting time of 3:25 p.m. Our hats are off to them. That is the spirit that made America great.

Now they still are not satisfied and are setting their sights on 6,000 barrels in one day soon.

We received a letter yesterday from Marvin C. Walker, president of the Granite City National Bank, which stated: "I think this type of good news put before us on the front page of the paper goes a long way toward making us feel good about our community. The confidence and spirit the Nesco news portrays, I am sure, will create that competitive edge needed in many of our other industries to get them moving in the same direction."

Withholding interest, dividends ill advised

To the Editor:

There could hardly be a less desirable move in reverse federal tax revenues than the scheme to withhold income tax on interest and dividend income. This scheme is unnecessary and will result in only a minimal increase in revenue. It will also alienate and infuriate the millions of honest tax-payers who will have to put up with it.

Yet again the new Congress takes immediate action. The ill-advised program will go into effect on July 1.

In the past, Congress has had the good sense to respond to aroused public opinion and kill similar schemes. This one got through last year because it was tacked onto the general tax bill—and killing it would have meant killing the overall measure.

Reagan declares Year of the Bible

To the Editor:

President Reagan proclaims 1983 Year of the Bible. President Reagan, encouraging Americans to read the Bible, has failed to answer to the challenges America faces.

At the National Prayer Breakfast, Reagan signed a proclamation designating 1983 as the Year of the Bible. "Come, let us resolve to read, learn and try to heed the greatest message ever written."

Because it is based on the previous year's tax, the exemption system also is unfair to people who have retired, people who have retired, for instance, or who have lost their jobs or other sources of income.

It goes without saying that it is a huge, all-encompassing as this one also has many built-in intricacies and that they will fall hardest on those who can least afford it. There is certainly a risk of over-withholding, and in some cases people entitled to refunds may neglect to file for them.

An exemption system is proposed for those with less than $5,000 who did not pay more than $1,500 in taxes in the previous year ($2,500 for joint returns) and for anyone who paid $600 or less ($1,000 for joint returns).

Perhaps worst of all is the scheme will create. Withholding will be optional, with the payer if payments total less than $100 per year. For most investors,

of acquittal or grant Van Hook a new trial.

"I think the verdicts were incorrect," Gitchoff said. He noted that the jury found Van Hook innocent on the indecent liberties charge which alleged Van Hook had intercourse with a 14-year-old girl on or about Dec. 11, 1976.

It found him guilty of official misconduct, a charge that alleged Van Hook used his official capacity as a school teacher to have intercourse with the girl twice, in 1976 and 1977.

Gitchoff said he will also base his request for an acquittal or new trial on something that allegedly occurred Thursday night while the jury was

He said Weber told him that the jury had sent a communication to the judge. It supposedly asked whether Van Hook could be convicted of official misconduct if the state's attorney had not pro-ed both incidents of sexual intercourse. Ferguson is said to have answered the question.

Gitchoff said there is a procedure to follow in such situations. The judge is supposed to deal with the question in open court, with both lawyers and the court reporter present which he did not do, Gitchoff said.

"I'm surprised," Weber said of Gitchoff's argument. "That's the way things have been handled at the courthouse for 30 years." There was nothing improper about the way Ferguson answered the jury's question, Weber said.

Gitchoff said that if Ferguson does not order an acquittal or grant a new trial, there are other legal issues on which to base an appeal to the appellate court.

He concerns the statute of limitations, he said. Normally, the limit is three years on this type of crime.

Weber wins

In this case, Weber was able to get the judge to extend the limit to six years because of a special exception involving public officials. Gitchoff questions whether that extended limit should have applied in this case.

Gitchoff also contends Weber should not be allowed to bring in evidence of other alleged crimes (at Caseyville School) by Van Hook, Weber said, and the judge agreed, that the other evidence was introduced to show that Van Hook used a similar method of operation with other girls.

When he put his case on the record, Gitchoff said, "I'm surprised," Gitchoff said. The accumulation of testimony by a total of five alleged victims was believed to have been very damaging.

Weber said he will put even more alleged victims on the stand at the sentencing hearing.

Seek Impact

Chamber of Commerce committee on crime prevention and control introduced the speakers.

The Snowball approach was praised by Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veltman. A problem discussed was that many young people assume that Operation Snowball is for individuals who have drug problems. Just the opposite is the case, but a certain stigma remains, regarding the nature of participation, he said.

Efforts are to be made to spotlight a continuing need for anti-drug abuse activities such as the Snowball seminars.

The seven South and North students who spoke described their seminar as a "high" on themselves and on young people's ability to exert constructive pressure.

The gathering of business people and public officials was impressed by what was said and will give high priority to helping the anti-abuse drive gain momentum here and elsewhere.

Drew Karandjeff presided at the Rotary-anniversary meeting, which was sponsored by Granite City Steel, Warren Decatur of the Tri-Cities Area

Also speaking were Debbie Bozzardi, a counselor at Aid, Inc., of Collinsville, Sheryl K. Evans, a Guidance and Vocational School South student; Jean Schram, a member of the Jason Health Center, formerly known as the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, Richard Schardan, an agent of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois, and Steve Weeks of Talbot Hall, St. Elizabeth Medical Center's program to fight alcohol and drug dependency.

Weber showed slides of the annual Hawaiian triathlon in which he participates—a consecutive 2.4-mile swim, 112-mile bicycle race and 26.2-mile marathon run.

He cited athletic competition and physical fitness goals as examples of "positive addictions."

Steelers win first sectional grappler tournament

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Both Granite City North and Granite City South took the good with the bad at the South Class AA Wrestling Sectional Tournament this weekend.

The Steelers took a lot of good things at the sectional. North won its first-and last-sectional by edging Quincy, the surprise team of the tournament, by four points, 86-53-25.

In the process, North qualified three wrestlers: Colin Davis, Greg Nemeth and Rod Unger, for the state finals this weekend at Champaign.

However, three wrestlers whom Steel coach Walt Whitaker expected to qualify, Greg Nemeth, Bruce Widel and John Morris, failed to qualify.

and mistakes could have given the title to the Blue Devils.

"I told Colin and Rod that the only way we could win if they could get a couple of points with them would be to tie them with us," Whitaker said.

Davis, who avenged his only loss of the season by defeating Althoff's Joe Williams 7-4, came back in the first place bout at 88 and pinned Jay Dawdy of Springfield Southeast in only 1:18. That pin was Davis' 22nd of the year, a school record.

Davis was happy about winning the title at 88, but he was more pleased about defeating Williams. "That one's been haunting me for a while. At the end, he tried to put on the Grampy Roll, but I kept my head solid and put him in the mat," Davis said.

Widel was happy about winning the title at 112, but he was more pleased about defeating Williams. "That one's been haunting me for a while. At the end, he tried to put on the Grampy Roll,

but I kept my head solid and put him

in the mat," Davis said.

The two matches between Davis' and Unger's didn't go well for North. In the 112-pound final, Nemeth lost to Cahokia's Kevin Byrd, a wrestler who lost to Nemeth twice, 5-1.

In a rematch of the Collinsville Regional title match at 112, Civic Memorial's Kip Kristoff pinned North's Brent McKeon in 1:18.

"I thought you'd help pick us up after Widel and Morris were out by getting to the finals. I thought he would place, but I didn't think he would get it," Whitaker said.

The match that would decide the regional went to Unger vs. Quincy's Doug Allen. Allen had the edge in the first period after Unger was pinned for a takedown, but Allen got up by getting to the finals. I thought he would place, but I didn't think he would get it," Whitaker said.

In the second period, Unger came back with two near falls and a takedown, and Unger put Allen away in the third period at 5:11 with a Half Nelson.

"I knew I had to pin to pin him if we were going to win," Unger said.

"I knew I had to pin to pin him if we were going to win," Unger said.

North could have walked away with the title, but the other two teams the wrestlers performed up to expectations. Widel, Morris—and eventually Nemeth—found that familiarity breed contempt.

Meanwhile, Morris, who defeated North's Matt Bartle of Belleville East twice during the regular season at 155, was also upset. Taylor defeated Morris 5-3 on a last-minute takedown.

Both wrestlers were eliminated from the wrestle-backs with Bartle lost to Springfield's Monte Kessler. Nemeth, Morris finished the season 30-1, and Widel ended the season at 30-2.

"When both Widel and Morris went out, I thought our hopes of winning were over," Whitaker said.

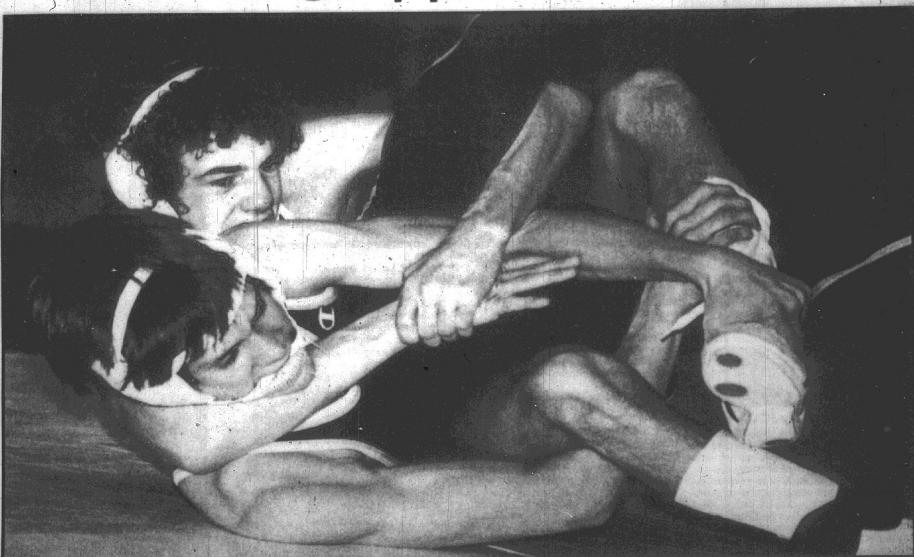

Whitaker thought North was in trouble then, but he was really scared when Patterson, Monte Kessler and Bill Zimmerman lost semifinalists.

Patterson, 132, lost to Dave Mardirosoff of Springfield South, 140, lost to Quinn's Dan Reid, 7-6, and Zimmerman, 167, lost to Quincy's Calvin Parish, you guessed it, 7-6.

Quincy made its presence known in the wrestlebacks. At the end of that round, the Steelers and Blue Devils were tied at 74-53 points.

With only four wrestlers left, North had to take advantage of every point it could. Quincey had five wrestlers left.

prises by winning the 188 title over Earl Clark of East St. Louis Lincoln. The match was a rematch of the 188 championship match at the O'Fallon Regional, but Brown made sure it had a different outcome. Brown pinned Clark at 4:51.

Unger, 35-0, Davis, 33-1, Frangoulis, 32-1, and Brown, 21-7-1, all qualified for the state meet last Saturday. All three seniors, McKeon, 25-7, and Dowdy, 26-8-3, are juniors making their first trip to the state finals.

I knew I had to go under him because his arms are long, and I knew I could ride him," Brown said. "I used a double-leg grape vine to pin him."

"I was disappointed Morris didn't make it because I think he's a better wrestler than I am," Unger said.

The other surprise South had was at 155, Mark Dowdy, who lost twice to Mark Bartle of Belleville East this season, defeated Bartle in the third place match 11-7 with a series of takedowns, reversals and a reversal.

"I knew I had a good chance to do well, but Coach Schmitt was saying Dave and I wouldn't make it because the seedings were too tough for us. The class was definitely tough, but I was determined to make it," Dowdy said.

"I knew if I wrestled hard, I could beat Bartle even though he beat me in a dual meet and the regionals," Dowdy said.

Other South' wrestlers in the sectionals included heavyweight Paul Hilecheck, who was pinned by Al Klein in 2:27 in a wrestleback, and freshman Tom Sparks, who lost to Tony Crase of Highland in a first round match at 119.

Area wrestlers who advanced to the state finals included Bob Williams of Roxana at 119, Lee Henry, 32-9 of Edwardsville at 132, Jeff Nichols, 35-1, of Civic Memorial at 145, Mick Hunter, 24-2-1 of O'Fallon at 145, Eric Brown, 24-2-1 of Edwardsville at 155, Taylor, 34-9-1.

That was the toughest match I had at the tournament. He was a really smart wrestler," Frangoulis said.

Salazar wins TAC-USA Trials

Salazar at press luncheon Friday.

EDWARDSVILLE — Front-running distance runner Craig Virgin of Lebanon finished second Sunday afternoon to world record holder Alberto Salazar during the Athlete Congress-USA Cross Country Championships Trials at Eastern Illinois University.

Virgin, whose marketing firm, Front Running Inc., organized the race, finished the 8000-meter race in 36:50.09, just 16 seconds behind Salazar's time of 36:33.149.

Salazar, who was battling a cold, finished the race about 20 yards in front of the local favorite.

Sunday's race marked Virgin's comeback after battling with health and kidney problems in 1982.

Get ready! Class A cage regionals begin tonight

Sports on the Run
By Al Gerstenecker

Tonight begins what promises to be the first of many evenings of high school basketball—as Illinois Class A teams begin the initial step in what they hope will be march to the state class championships.

For the next few weeks (a period referred to by basketball enthusiasts as "March Madness"), boys' and girls' prep cage teams will vie for a coveted trip to the state finals next month in Champaign.

Among those Class A teams which begin post-season competition this week are Madison, Metro-East Lutheran and Lovejoy in neighboring Brookline. All of which will compete in the DuPage Regional.

The top-seeded Trojans will face six-seeded Columbia tonight in the opening game of the DuPage Regional. The beginning of play is set for 7 p.m.

The second game of the regional, which will immediately follow the Madison game, Metro-East Lutheran, seeded fifth, will meet fourth-seeded Assumption. That game begins at 8 p.m.

Class A regional action will resume Tuesday evening at the second-seeded Lovejoy Wildcats on seven-seventh host Dupo in the first game of the evening at 6:30 p.m.

In Tuesday's nightcap, Ken Perkins' third-seeded Venice Red Devils will take on eighth-seeded Belleville St. Henry at 8 p.m., the final game of the first round.

Preliminary action begins on Wednesday night. Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the winner of Monday's matchup between Madison and Columbia will square off in the opening game of the regional's second game between Assumption and MELHS.

Preliminary action will continue on Thursday as the winners of Tuesday's contests do battle.

The winners of Wednesday's and Thursday's contests will vie for the regional championship on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The Dupo Regional promises to be one of the better regionals in the state as any one of the top three teams have proven they have what it takes to win.

The Madison Trojans, for example, are historically a tournament team. Coach Larry Graham has geared his entire program towards post-season play.

That may be the reason why the coaches of the teams competing in the regional seeded Madison above Lovejoy despite the Trojans' Jan. 18 loss to the Wildcats.

Then again, there's second-seeded Lovejoy and the awesome 6-foot-6 forward Barry Sumpter to consider. The Red Devils do well with him.

When considering the top three seeds—Madison, Lovejoy and Venice—all of which by the way have just four games, (Madison 20-4, Lovejoy 18-4 and Venice 20-4) anything can happen.

Perkins' Perkins summed it up best.

"The regional tournament could be wild, and then it could be very predictable," Perkins said.

"Madison got the number one seed, but that may have been politics. With the kind of size," Perkins said of Lovejoy's Sumpter, "you've got to count them (Lovejoy's)." Perkins added.

He said his team has had some difficulty lately, in particular last week's loss to Assumption, and he said he feels his team could "rise to the occasion."

Madison has some fine shooters in John Hughes, Leroy Pryor and Michael Young as well as an incessant press, and better-than-average height in Keith Wyatt (6-foot-6) and Terry Hartman (6-foot-5).

Abilities beyond the Trojan's should help their press and their height in Madison's speed and general quickness. Without question, Madison's forte is its quickness.

Unlike the Trojans, the Red Devils, lack in the height department. However, Venice has something in the middle in the form of 5-foot-9 Keith Marckbank, which works for them as well as a big man.

To complement Venice's attack are point guards Eddie Salmon and Phillip White. And, too, the Devils are quick afoot.

In short, (no pun intended) the Red Devils have made good this season without height.

And as for the Wildcats, they have proven that they are more than a one-man show. However, if the Wildcats are to emerge victorious, Sumpter must play well.

Defensively, he's the best thing since armored cars. But offensively, he has to do better in the regional than score nine points against Lovejoy's victory over Madison last month. Nine points, however, have been enough then, but I'm afraid it'll take more against either Madison or Venice.

If Sumpter plays well, he could tip the scales in Lovejoy's favor.

The winner of the DuPage Regional will advance to the Vandalia Sectional, which is scheduled for March 1, 2 and 4.

The winner of the DuPage Regional will face the winners of the St. Elmo, Greenville and Litchfield Regionals.

The winner of the Vandalia Sectional will then advance to the Charleston Super Sectional which will be played on the campus of Eastern Illinois University on March 11.

Class A state championships are slated for March 11 and the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

Next Monday, Feb. 21, the Class AA Regionals begin as both Granite City North and South compete in the Granite City South Regional.

Maroon bombardment denies Steelers upset win

BELLEVILLE — Granite City North basketball coach Bill Ohlendorf has been coaching long enough to know the strength of Belleville West's basketball program. Defeating the Maroons is difficult enough, but beating them in Belleville, well, that's even more difficult.

Despite nearly 12 minutes of even play, the Steelers were unable to turn a tradition Friday night as the Maroon's downed the Steelers' 63-50.

"I was really pleased with the way the kids played tonight," Ohlendorf said. "We played even with them throughout the first quarter, slipping some in the back door, before they scored eight or nine straight points to go ahead," Ohlendorf said.

"I'm proud of our boys over here better than this one and we came up short there too," Ohlendorf said. "They played their hearts out tonight."

Throughout the first quarter and midway through the second quarter, the Steelers stayed close, but were passed. A 10-point run by West at the end of the second quarter put the Maroons over the half.

Throughout the first quarter and midway through the second quarter, the Steelers stayed close, but were passed. A 10-point run by West at the end of the second quarter put the Maroons over the half.

Led by forward Steve Tritschsch and center Scott Cant, North jumped to a 6-0 start before bewildered Roger Mueller, West's coach, called for a timeout.

With 3:06 remaining, West's point guard Mark Henke put the Maroon's on the scoreboard with a jumper from the left side. West moved to within two points, 6-4, before forward Ken Coplen knotted the score at 6 apiece with just over four minutes remaining in the first quarter.

West's Randy Roschansky improvized through the 12-minute mark of the contest before West began the aerial barrage.

With 1:11 remaining, West's center James Smith sank a jump shot to move the Maroons ahead by two, 18-16.

With 3:06 remaining, West's Henke joined the action, sinking another jump shot from about 15 feet out to increase West's lead to 20-16.

Cant retaliated, assembling his defense, called North's first time out to increase the Maroon's hit 20 of 45 for 44 percent.

Sitting on that comfortable lead, Mueller began substituting early in the third quarter.

Just when it appeared the Steelers would pull off the upset, West's point guard, West's Coplen grabbed his second offensive rebound, then banked it in to make it 10-16.

In the second quarter, West continued to pull the inside game with little success. North's 2-3 zone couldn't have worked any better.

To start the quarter, however, Coplen put the Maroons up by two at 7:45 with a turn-around jumper that hit only the rim.

West's lead was short lived though. Just 10 seconds later, Tritschsch, after accepting a pass from guard Sam Tate, dribbling into the center post, penetrating West's man-to-man defense layed one in to even the score at 12.

That kind of see-saw scoring continued through the 12-minute mark of the contest before West began the aerial barrage.

North edges South for consolation cage title

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — The importance of a good point guard is indisputable. On Friday night at Collinsville High's Vandalia campus gymnasium, Granite City South was playing point-for-point with their cross-town rival until their point guard was lost for the game with a twisted ankle. When little Keith Johnson left the game mid-way through the third quarter, Lilley hit for eight points and the Maroons had gained a tie at 26-all.

Immediately after Juhasz' departure, the North Steelers outscored the Warriors 8-0 to take the lead of the game. North held on to take the second contest between the two schools, 44-40, and the consolation championship of the Collinsville Tournament.

One girl from each of Granite City's teams made the ten-girl All Tournament team. Granite City North's Trish Skinner gained the honors and for North, Lisa Lilley, who demonstrated her prowess in the consolation championship game, hitting for 16 points, eight of which came in the crucial spurts in the third quarter. Lilley hit for eight points in the period.

The game started out slow, with both teams working their defenses to maximum effectiveness. Neither team could penetrate for inside play.

Both teams were in zone full-court pressure and the South quintet picked off four turnovers in the first period off of their half-court defense, but had a hard time converting them into baskets, having several inside attempts unanswered.

To close out the first period, Juhasz made a five-footer off balance at the buzzer to give South the lead at the end of the first period, 9-6.

For North, Lilley provided the offensive spark, hitting for 10 points in the 15-foot perimeter, canning eight in the first half, giving the Steelers the lead at the end of the second stanza, 22-19.

To start off the second half, South scored off the tip to bring the Warriors into the zone one, 22-21. North then scored four unanswered points, extending their lead to five, 26-21.

Then Juhasz took the game over offensively, first driving the full length of the court and then with a layup, getting the layup, then scoring from inside while being fouled. Juhasz hit the floor hard, grimacing in pain, holding her ankle. She left the game, not to return.

Now it was time for Lilley to take over. After a three-point shot, the next points scored a layup, a free throw and a rebound basket off a North steal.

Suddenly the tied game turned into a 32-26 North lead.

With the loss of Juhasz, the Warriors were hard pressed to break the full-court defense set up by the Steelers. A minute after the start kept extending by Lilley, Lilley hit again, extending the Steeler lead to eight, 34-26.

The Warriors finally regained their composure but the damage was done and North won the cross-town opponents to pick up the victory.

The two girls teams will meet tonight for the last time at South high school Game time for the Junior Varsity is 6 p.m.

GRANITE NORTH: (44)

Fanning 2-2-6, Lilley 8-0-4, 16, Rozyczyk 1-2-3, Davis 2-2-6, Fountain 3-0-2, Atkinson 3-0-6.

GRANITE SOUTH: (40)

Adams 1-1-5, Juhasz 3-2-4, Skinner 5-4-9, Schneiders 2-1-2, Thornberry 2-0-2, Iland 1-4-6.

Hazelwood downs Kahoks for championship

By JEFF WILSON
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — You'd have thought Hazelwood Central Lady Hawks had won the state basketball tournament the way they stormed onto the court at the buzzer in Fletcher Gymnasium Thursday night.

But they were rushing to congratulate junior forward Grace Grotz, whose off-the-court work and remaining on the clock, put the icing on the cake as Hazelwood Central wrestled the Third Annual Collinsville Girl's Tournament championship away from last year's champions, Collinsville, 42-32.

In a light defensive battle in which the Kahoks got their first real look at a man-to-man defense this year, the Hawks now 21-1, appeared enroute to a runaway. But Collinsville's defense put the Kahoks within striking distance in the final quarter.

"We missed seven layups," South coach Darrin Deterding said after the game. "You can miss seven layups and win." South dropped the contest, but it was definitely a 10-point loss for the Warriors.

Of course there was one person on the court that may have had something to do with South's lack of layups.

"We're ready for the regionals," Perkins said. "We've been playing extremely well lately. I think we're in top form."

Without question, Venice's point guard Eddie Salmond is ready. In Saturday's contest against Summer, Salmond scored 44 (yes, forty-four) points. Salmond was 20 of 24, for 83 percent, from the field.

Other Devils to tally the scoreboard Saturday include Vicki Koenig, 14; Karen Ward, Phillip White, 16; Bobby Ervin, six; Dean Johnson, four; and Darren Wise, 10.

At Edwardsburg High School Friday night, the turned out to be the difference in the game, laying off South's zone and working the boards effectively.

"We missed seven layups," South coach Darrin Deterding said after the game. "You can miss seven layups and win." South dropped the contest, but it was definitely a 10-point loss for the Warriors.

Of course there was one person on the court that may have had something to do with South's lack of layups.

"We're ready for the regionals," Perkins said. "We've been playing extremely well lately. I think we're in top form."

Without question, Venice's point guard Eddie Salmond is ready. In Saturday's contest against Summer, Salmond scored 44 (yes, forty-four) points. Salmond was 20 of 24, for 83 percent, from the field.

The Red Devils begin post-season play Tuesday evening in the Dupo Regional, as they take on St. Henry at 8 p.m.

A little Lebanon 'Magic' almost hexes Trojans

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

MADISON — The inside game of Madison High School, usually their forte' was nearly their undoing Saturday night when they won a close one, 64-61.

"We're not that good," Graham said.

"You've got to be a little bit of credit."

"They got the ball to Bass inside and we couldn't do anything about it."

The game was a thriller, going down to the last seconds. With 12 seconds on the clock, Lebanon had the ball at half court and were down by one. Fortunately for Madison, Lebanon's Jeff Gamble, lost his composure and dribbled the ball off of his foot out of bounds. Madison took the ball out, drew the foul and hit both ends of the one-and-one, icing the game.

Madison had their troubles inside all night, blowing their inside opportunities. Only the lightning quickness of Johnnie Bass and the offensive rebounding of Terry Hamilton.

Although Hughes had his troubles inside Saturday, he made more up for it on the defensive end of the court, forcing a number of turnovers and providing the Trojans with that all-important opportunity to penetrate and pass for layups.

But somehow Bass stole the show, and Madison had to fight his team all evening.

Lebanon pulled out quickly in the game, leading with two minutes remaining in the first quarter, 12-5. Bass did everything for the Greyhounds, and did it well. Against the press, Bass brought the ball up the court and would shoot from anywhere he wanted to be associated with a big man. In the first two periods, Lebanon had little trouble with the Madison press.

The quick hands and playmaking of Hughes was a key to his ability to come back and take the lead at the end of the first period. In the first 10 minutes of play, Hughes had two steals and forced two others. The Trojans led at the end of the first quarter, 15-14.

Madison used its 1-2-2 zone to count down press, trapping in the corners whenever possible. The press finally began to take its toll on the Greyhounds and the Trojans led at the end of the first half, 34-29.

At the start of the third quarter, Lebanon came out hungry. In the first 3:20 of the third quarter, 12-5. Bass basket by Lerdy Pryor, while scoring 10 themselves. Lebanon continued to play a ferocious defense, and the ball was always difficult to take the lead. On a loose ball basket by Bass, the Greyhounds extended their lead to seven, 45-38.

The last minute-and-a-half of the game was the key to Madison being able to pull out the victory as they scored seven points to only two for Lebanon, cutting the lead from nine to only four at the end of the third quarter, 52-49.

In the fourth quarter, the scene was set for Madison to engineer their comeback, if only they could utilize their press. But three times in a row in the third period, Madison stole the ball and failed to come up with the conversion.

Finally, behind the outside shooting of Pryor and the inside play of Hamilton, the Trojans managed to come back within one point of Lebanon and game within one point of the Greyhounds.

With 30 seconds remaining in the game, Hamilton hit a big rebound basket, giving the lead to Madison, 62-61.

Only seconds after the basket by Hamilton, the Trojans shot a press on the press and went in for the layup, but missed. Bass pulled down the rebound and called time out with only 12 seconds remaining.

On the inbounds pass from the press, Bass lost his calm and dropped the ball off of his foot, giving the ball to Madison.

With seven seconds on the clock, Lynn Bentley fouled Michael Young. Young iced both free throws, giving Madison the victory, 64-61.

Madison also won their Friday night game at Teutopolis, 60-46. The Trojans went without three of their starters and three of their reserves in the contest, as the six players listed in parentheses sat out and had to sit out a game. Graham said Reggie Banks had a great game, hitting 14 points and gathering 11 rebounds.

The Madison JV's walked over the Lebanon Juniors, 37-37.

That was the end of the Trojan's scheduled season. As is customary in Madison during the last home game, senior members of the games were honored for their contributions to them.

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

This column is my thanks to all of you readers who have taken the time to either write me or to call about their personal stories of sports in their lives since I originated "Sports of All Sorts" nearly one year ago.

One of the most precious to me was from a long-time friend and a "Class Guy," Samuel T. Hatcher.

Thanks, Jim.

Now retired, Holland's contribution to Granite City's business life was outstanding. Bill Collins, who had made many, many contributions which enhanced the life in the Quad Cities for most of us.

Heads up to me two very good suggestions from Vic Koentje, who he dubs "the old coach," and Sally Parker. I hope to do a column on each of these fellow real soon.

Veizer offers winter driving tips

Vehicle registrations reflect an ever changing mixture of different types of vehicles operating in today's traffic flow — sub-compacts, compacts and standard size cars as well as vans and trucks.

"Each has its own, special handling characteristics — different types can be compounded by winter's ice and snow slicked road surfaces," said Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer.

To back up his contention, Veizer cited test findings from the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and supported by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. According to these reports:

A sub-compact car is likely to require a shorter distance in a panic stop on ice than a compact car. A compact car, in turn, is likely to require a shorter distance to stop than a standard size and weight car. Stopping distances for the lighter cars can be as much as 25 percent shorter.

Benefit for Amy Hardin

A benefit dinner dance for Amy Lynn Hardin, the 7-month-old Cahokia baby who is being sponsored by the Tri-Cities American Legion Post 113. The event will take place on Saturday, March 5, from 6 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Legion, 1625 State St., according to Post Commander Harold Chandler.

Special recognition will be accorded to area dignitaries at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7 o'clock. "The Third Wind" band will provide music for the dance, the commander noted.

Tickets costing $5, which include dinner, may be purchased in advance or at the door on the night of the event. The public is invited to attend and all proceeds will be forwarded to the Trust Fund for Amy Lynn Hardin at DuPage State Savings Bank, Dupo, Ill. 62239. For those who are unable to attend, they would like to make a donation may send it directly to the bank, Chandler explained.

During the evening there will be gifts and prizes awarded and also an auction will be conducted.

ALLIES FOR GENEY

Bank officials from Granite City police last week that the husband of a customer allegedly took a large check from his wife's checking account and turned it over to a $500 check. The man, who was not authorized to sign her checks, then opened a savings account, deposited the $500 and the next day withdrew the money from the new account.

"If a smaller and lighter vehicle can come to a stop shorter than your car, conditions are right for a rear-end collision," he said. "It's up to you to read the kind of traffic ahead of you and increase following distances accordingly."

Size and weight create another problem, however, according to skid testers' findings.

In trying to get started again from a stop on icy roads, larger cars have extra difficulty getting back into motion. This is especially true at warmer ice temperatures or when ice has become highly polished, such as at intersections. The message is one of being rear-ended by vehicles that can get started quicker, or that are using superior traction aids.

Chief Veizer asked a question to the drivers of the ever growing number of front wheel drive cars:

"Do the commonly used traction aids — snow treads, studded tires, etc. — provide the same assistance when used on the drive wheels of a front wheel drive vehicle as they provide on the rear wheels of a rear wheel drive car?"

The chief again cited recent findings by the NSC Skid Testers.

On ice, little stopping advantage was found when unstudded snow tires were placed on the drive wheels — either front or rear — of the vehicles.

Studded tires performed slightly better on the rear drive vehicle than on the front drive vehicle.

Steel link chains performed considerably better in stopping on the front drive vehicles — showing a 60 percent improvement vs a 39 percent improvement when used on rear drive wheels.

The improvements noted during the tests were comparisons with original equipment highway treads and studded tires using locked wheel stopping distance tests on glare ice from 20 miles an hour.

The chains used were "PL" steel link limited chain type made by some from wheel drive vehicles and smaller cars.

Other research findings indicated that:

When a lighter car collides with a heavier car or truck, it stops abruptly. All things

Mehelic clarifies gasoline accounting

Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehele Thursday clarified information he believed may have been misunderstood by some readers in an article in Wednesday's Press-Record.

He stressed that three township employees had been asked to log "extra" gasoline use in township vehicles not belonging to the highway department.

The three township employees told to log the gasoline use for the township to reimburse were the mosquito sprayer, the humane officer and the driver of the senior citizens' van, he said.

Both the mosquito sprayer always filled his truck gasoline tank and then took an additional five gallons in a can to fuel the sprayer. The humane officer took diesel fuel to mix in the spray. Mehele said, noting that he asked the man to be sure to log all of the fuel taken, not

The dog catcher and senior citizen van driver "might have been" told at times when they received "say 18.7 or 18.8 gallons to go ahead and round it off to 20," Mehele told the Press-Record.

He pointed out one error in the description of the photo of he and Douglas Teeter in the paper, which described Teeter as "the dog catcher." Teeter is the part-time town clerk, having been defeated by Lee Ridgeway in the last election. The Press-Record regrets the error.

Q. How does a young person, just starting out, establish credit? Her daughter will graduate from college soon and has already found a job as an assistant buyer for a large retail organization. She would certainly find credit useful inasmuch as her job will mean relocating away from home and setting up housekeeping for the first time.

A: Your daughter should not have many problems in establishing credit. She may already be well on her way if she has maintained a checking or savings account in her own name through college. These serve as a record of financial responsibility when applying for credit with local merchants. She may also want to apply for a charge card under any one of a number of programs which have been established specifically for college seniors and recent graduates. The fact that she has already obtained employment will also be beneficial. Many businesses and financial institutions will find this in her favor, while many employers will give a new employee a letter of reference.

Future Secretaries plan Atlanta trip

New events for Granite City High School North Future Secretaries Association were announced by Faculty Advisor Linda Haddox and PSI representative Charis Vunovic: The first annual convention of secretaries from schools throughout the United States is scheduled for March 25 through March 27 in Atlanta, Ga. Tentative plans are to charter a bus, which will accommodate about 40 individuals, for the 10-hour drive. Although the chapter has quite a large balance in their treasury due to several recently completed projects, it was decided that additional projects will be undertaken in order to raise money for the trip, thus costing each student about $20 for half the bus fare and $10 for the cost of the trip to Atlanta. Mrs. Haddox suggested the possibility of a short meeting before or after school within the next week in order to finalize plans.

Plans for the Atlanta field trip were outlined by Mrs. Haddox. A chartered bus will leave the school at 8:15 a.m. on April 15, and will return to the school by 2:30 p.m. The first stop will be McAuley, the company which does data processing for McDonnell Douglas, and other companies. The next stop will be the Atlanta Zoo. There are a total of the word processing department will be made. The field trip will conclude with lunch at Robato's in Westport Plaza. Each student will be required to wear a dress or skirt and will need to turn in $6 to the faculty advisor prior to the trip, which will be used to defray the cost of the lunch.

Mrs. Vunovic explained that the group desire to lengthen the "Day in the Office" program in order that the students would get more benefit from the experience.

DR. ROSE ATTENDS CONTACT LENS EVENT

"Soft" bifocal contact lenses and recent advancements were the focus of the 22nd Annual Meeting of American Contact Lens Society Congress in Kansas City, Mo., which attracted more than 1,000 doctors, staff assistants, spouses and relatives of optometrists, opticians and accredited post-graduate study. Dr. Benjamin T. Rose, who practices at 2025 Edison Ave., was among the most active in the meeting.

Soft bifocal contact lenses are considered a major design breakthrough that could ultimately benefit millions of Americans engaged by presbyopia. The condition, which sets in about age 40, is caused by the eyes' natural lenses losing their elasticity and selective-near focusing ability, according to Dr. John Marion, of Oklahoma City who is the Heart of America's president.

Madison to turn unpaid ambulance bills over to a collection agency

After reviewing an annual report of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department and Ambulance Service, which revealed $14,971 in unpaid bills from ambulances calls, Madison Mayor Mike Sasy announced the ambulance bills will be turned over to a collection agency, since people refuse to pay for the service.

"These people are grateful to have an ambulance take them to the hospital when they need it, but for some reason do not want to pay the bill when they return home," the mayor said.

Fire Chief Mike Macke prepared the report which listed a total of 244 ambulance calls to city residents, 66 to non-residents. A breakdown of the report noted 14 people refused treatment after the call, 94 were public aid cases, 77 were medical cases, 52 insurance cases, 88 no insurance cases and three commercial cases.

The total payroll to operate the ambulance service amounted to $12,097 and the annual profit margin in 1982 was $27,133. Of this amount, $12,161 was collected, leaving a deficit of $14,971.

Brinkman submitted a detailed document which indicated there was a 21 percent decrease in crime for the month of January, 1983, as compared to January, 1982. Monies collected for fines during the month totaled $2,433. There were 26 calls for the month, including three for assault and battery, seven burglary, 15 for other crimes, one for arson, according to his analysis.

HELP SAVE THE GRANITE CITY MUSIC PROGRAM

Our elementary band program was dropped from the daily curriculum by the Board of Education. We feel that this will seriously impair the quality of our instrumental program. Starting a student on an instrument in the seventh grade will drastically lower the effectiveness of the program.

Pursuit ends in 4 charges

A chase at high speeds from Venice through Woodstock at 10:10 p.m. Friday ended with a Venice police vehicle being damaged twice and the arrest of the fleeing driver, Moses Davis, 36, of 121 Lee Wright Homes.

Davis eventually was caught at the rear of the Thomas Terry Apartments in Brooklyn after he abandoned the vehicle and fled on foot. He was charged with driving while his license was suspended, fleeing or attempting to elude police, reckless driving and criminal damage to property.

The pursuit started on Klein Street in Venice when a patrolling officer recognized Davis as the driver of a vehicle and knew the man had a suspended license.

The officer attempted to get Davis to stop, activating his squad car's lights and siren and, in the 600 block of South Fourth Street, the car being chased did pull to the curb but immediately drove off again as the officer began to exit his vehicle.

Efforts were made to block the fleeing driver in Brooklyn where Davis allegedly put his car in reverse, striking the police vehicle on the left rear bumper, before continuing on through Brooklyn at high speeds.

At Sixth Street, and the Thomas Terry Apartment complex, Davis appeared to lose control of the car and it turned sideways in the road. He got out of the vehicle, running through the parking lot, the police vehicle which had pulled alongside, and ran toward the apartments.

He was captured at the rear of the apartment complex, reports stated. A woman passenger in the vehicle was also captured.

Davis was released from custody at 10:30 a.m. Saturday upon posting a $306 cash bond. He is to appear in the Granite City court March 4.

Job Service offers workshops on how to go about finding a job

How do lone go about getting a job? With unemployment high and competition fierce for existing openings, success goes to those who have taken time to plan their job search strategy.

The job search planning, Dorothy Williams-Whitehead, manager of the Illinois State Job Service office in Granite City, announced that her office is conducting job search workshops. These workshops are for the unemployed and those wishing to change occupations.

The job search workshops are directed toward self-placement performed by an individual as a part of a group of fellow job seekers. Participants learn to assess their skills, abilities and interests and to relate them to those of job markets. They also learn the various sources of job leads, plan their job search strategies and develop their interviewing skills. This is done under the instruction of a professional counselor or a leader who provides support and information through discussion.

There are many values to the group approach, the instructor says. One is the different ideas generated by the participants themselves.

Another value is that the group becomes very supportive of each individual's progress and shares the same experience of being unemployed or dissatisfied with his present job. Different attitudes about the world of work are explored and most participants develop positive attitudes as a result of these workshops.

The Granite City Job Service office already has conducted several workshops in recent months. Many of these have either

Services to small firms expanded

The Small Business Administration (SBA) is taking its services to the public in Illinois.

In an effort designed to assure that all SBA programs are known and communicated throughout the state, Illinois has been divided into six regions. An SBA management assistance officer (MAO) has been assigned to oversee and coordinate all SBA programs within each region.

Marion and St. Clair counties are in Region VI, which is comprised of 31 counties.

The SBA coordinator, Keith Andrews, will work with members of commerce, community colleges, universities, trade associations, news media and others to "spread the SBA word."

Programs such as management assistance, advertising, business counseling and training, financial assistance and contracting for minority firms will be explained and made available to eligible applicants.

SBA will be establishing co-sponsored training programs pertaining to high technology, exporting, contract procurement, innovation and research, and women in business.

Moore Andrews comments, "In this region we already have countering available from the Service Council of Retired Executives (SCORE) and the National Society of Public Accountants."

Additionally, the Belleville Area, Greater St. Louis, Greater Marion Area and Tri-Cities Area Chambers of Commerce currently serve as small business resource centers pursuant to agreements signed with the SBA.

Andrews can be reached at the SBA, Four North, Old State Capitol Plaza, Springfield 62701 or 1-217-492-4768.

Training sessions are conducted by officers from the Granite City Police Department, who provided comprehensive instruction in general police work.

The local auxiliary police force augments the Granite City Police Department and is an integral part of the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense), headed by CD Coordinator-Victor H. Koenig.

Under their role as CD members, the officers may be called upon to assist in disasters and other emergency situations and also at various community events when large crowds are present.

CHARGE OWNER OF VEHICLE IN MISHAP

Following an accident at Ponemon and Johnson Roads last week, the owner of one of the vehicles involved, Clarence A. Reichling, 38, of 2036 Hildebrand Ave., Madison, was charged with the fact that he was a passenger and not the driver.

Reichling's auto, reportedly driven by another person, struck a utility pole on Ponemon Road, where it allegedly struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Billy R. Houston, 2308 Edison Ave., which was halted at a stop sign on Ponemon Road.
